General History of the Diocese

By decree of Pope Pius IX, January 8, 1857, the northern half of the state of Indiana was erected into the Diocese of Fort Wayne, the boundaries being that part of the state north of the southern lines of Fountain, Montgomery, Boone, Hamilton, Madison, Delaware, Randolph and Warren Counties. The remaining southern half of the state made up the Diocese of Vincennes. (This old see — the original designation of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis — has been designated a titular see.)

In 1944, the Apostolic Decree of His Holiness Pope Pius XII established the Diocese of Lafayette, from the southern 24 counties of the Fort Wayne Diocese, approximately dividing the size of the diocese in half.

Another division occurred in 1957, the year the sixth bishop of Fort Wayne, Bishop Leo A. Pursley, was installed and the Diocese celebrated its 100th anniversary. At that time, four northwestern counties of Indiana were taken from the diocese to form the new Diocese of Gary.

Three years later, the Diocese of Fort Wayne was renamed the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend, and St. Matthew Parish in South Bend was designated the Co-Cathedral. With this change, the second auxiliary bishop of the Diocese, Bishop Joseph R. Crowley, was consecrated two years later and was sent to St. Matthew's in South Bend.

Today the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend comprises 14 counties of northeastern Indiana and has a Catholic population of more than 160,000.

The diocesan coat of arms was changed in 1960 with the addition of South Bend to the title of the diocese. The coat of arms retains in its upper portion the original design of the Diocese of Fort Wayne, slightly rearranged, with the crescent moon symbolizing the Blessed Virgin, the Patroness of the Diocese and the Cathedral under the title of her Immaculate Conception; the battlement, or rampart, recalling the historic foundation of the See City of Fort Wayne; and the three crosses of equal size representing the Most Blessed Trinity, the basic mystery of our faith.

The lower portion of the left side includes heraldic reference to the city and area of South Bend. The lily is a traditional symbol of St. Joseph whose name identifies the county of which South Bend is the seat and also the river which flows through it. The use of the "fleur de lis," the French form of the lily, recalls the pioneer settlement of the territory by the French and the early missionary labors of French priests, particularly Father Edward Sorin and his companions who founded the University of Notre Dame.

The figure of the six-winged angel is one of the four familiar symbols of the four Evangelists, in this instance of St. Matthew, Patron of the Co-Cathedral in South Bend. The curving line between the lower two sections of the shield represents the St. Joseph River, the south bend of which gave the city its name. It is interesting to note that such curved lines are known in heraldry as "bends."

Catholic Charities is the human service arm of the Catholic Church in the diocese. Catholic Charities' mission is to serve all those in need as Christ calls us to do. Services are provided to those in need from conception to natural death. All programs and services preserve the sanctity and dignity of human life and support the mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual needs of our brothers and sisters in the diocese.

For a complete list of services, visit www.ccfwsb.org.

The Office of Human Resources provides human resource support to all employees of the Diocesan Curia. The office also serves as a resource to parishes, schools, and diocesan secretariats to help develop highly effective employees and promote effective workplaces. This includes help with developing and implementing hiring and onboarding processes, employee training and development programs, and initiatives to create positive employee morale.

The Safe Environment program strives to create safe environments in parishes and schools throughout the diocese by coordinating background checks on all priests, deacons, seminarians, and employees of the diocese. All volunteers who are in regular contact with youth also undergo checks. Following a successful background check, the same adults receive training in creating safe environments and responding to suspected abuse. The program also coordinates training modules for all children enrolled in parish religious education and Catholic Schools.

HELPING CATHOLICS
LIVE, LEARN, & LOVE
THEIR CATHOLIC FAITH

We're here to provide Catholics with the resources they need to grow in their relationship with God, wherever they are — commuting to work, doing tasks around the house, sitting down with a good book, or gathering the kids for some family prayer time.

Live Chat

Available on Sydney Health or anthem.com, our Live Chat tool enables you to chat in real-time with a representative who can answer your benefit questions or connect you with others who can help.

How to use Live Chat

Log in using Sydney Health or anthem.com:

1. For Sydney Health, go to the Menu tab and under Get Support, select Start a live chat.
2. For anthem.com, choose Live Chat under the Support tab.

Choose your chat topic:

Once you start a chat, select a topic or program to connect with a representative who can best help you. Topics include:

-  24/7 NurseLine
-  Behavioral health
-  Benefits, coverage, and claims
-  Maternity and baby benefits
-  Pharmacy

With more ways to reach us, we're making it easier for you to find the answers and support you need, right when you need it.

Anthem Skill for Alexa

Quick, hands-free help is here. The Anthem Skill works through Alexa-ready devices, such as an Amazon Echo, or on your mobile device using the Amazon Alexa app. Say the words, "Alexa, ask Anthem ..." to start using the skill.

How to use Anthem Skill

Enable the Skill:

- Download the Amazon Alexa app from the App Store® or Google Play™.
- Go to Skills and Games and search for the Anthem Skill. Then tap Enable to Use.
- Enter your Anthem username and password to link the Skill with your Anthem account.
- Set up your Alexa voice profile and passcode if you haven't already.
- Ask Alexa for help by saying, "Alexa, ask Anthem ..."

Use the Skill to:

- Ask for your digital member ID card.
- Check your deductible and out-of-pocket maximum.
- Refill, renew, cancel, and check the order status of home delivery prescriptions.
- Access your spending account balance.
- Schedule a call with our Member Services team.
- Search for a doctor, specialist, or facility.
- Access claim information.
- Learn what a health care term means.

Sydney Health is offered through an arrangement with CareMarket, Inc., a separate company offering mobile application services on behalf of Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield. ©2020-2021.

Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield is the trade name of: In Colorado: Rocky Mountain Hospital and Medical Service, Inc. HMO products underwritten by HMO Colorado, Inc. Text, chat, or ask Alexa to find answers and support whenever is best for you

When you have questions about your Anthem health plan, you can find answers in real time, in the way that suits you best. Anthem's digital tools ensure that help is available whenever you need it. Whether you prefer interactive chat, hands-free voice commands, or live chat, you now have solutions that make it easier for you to focus on your unique needs and priorities.

Sydney Health

The SydneySM Health mobile app provides quick access to your health plan information — all in one place. The app's interactive chat feature helps you navigate your benefits with greater ease. Simply type your questions in the app to find answers quickly. Sydney Health can also suggest resources to help you understand your benefits, improve your health, and save money.

How to use Sydney Health's interactive chat

Download the app

- Download the Sydney Health app from the App Store[®] or Google Play[™].
- Register or log in to your account using your Anthem username and password.
- Look for the interactive chat feature icon, then type in your questions.

Use the Sydney Health interactive chat feature to:

- Search for doctors, hospitals, labs, and other health care providers in your plan.
- Check costs for care before you see a doctor.
- Pull up your digital member ID card.
- See what your plan covers.
- Find your deductible, copay, and share of costs.
- Access your spending account balance.

DIOCESAN PROTECTION POLICY AND GUIDELINES

Policy for the Protection of Children and Young People

It is the policy of the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend that all priests, deacons, candidates for ordination and religious life, and other personnel, lay and religious, paid and volunteer, must adhere to the diocese's Guideline for Conduct When Interacting with a Child or Young Person. Likewise, all are subject to and must report the physical, emotional, or sexual abuse or neglect of a child or young person to appropriate civil and diocesan authorities consistent with the diocese's Policy on Reporting Incidents of Child Abuse or Neglect. All are subject to and obligated by this policy.

Policy for criminal background checks and safe environment training

As part of its effort to protect all children from harm as well as a desire to create safe environments in all diocesan ministries and facilities, the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend will:

- Complete criminal background checks on diocesan priests and deacons engaged in active ministry and candidates for ordination according to diocesan procedure as part of the Safe Environment Program. Additionally, these persons will be required to complete the diocesan safe environment training according to diocesan procedures. The diocesan Safe Environment Coordinator (SEC) will ensure that this is accomplished with assistance from the Vicar General and the Vocations Office.
- Ensure that criminal background checks and safe environment training are completed on priests and deacons who are members of religious congregations and present in the diocese in active ministry. The religious congregation may assist the diocesan SEC with these requirements for their members as well as for candidates for ordination in their communities who are present in the diocese.
- Complete criminal background checks on all paid personnel, lay and religious, regardless of their level of contact with children, prior to the employee beginning his/her work. All personnel will complete the diocesan safe environment training before they begin their work responsibilities. Their supervisor will ensure these requirements are met.
- Complete criminal background checks on all volunteers, lay and religious, who will have regular contact with children or young people as part of their volunteer duties before they begin their volunteer responsibilities. These same volunteers will complete the diocesan safe environment training before they begin their volunteer responsibilities. Their supervisor will ensure these requirements are met.

- Provide annual safe environment training to all children enrolled in diocesan Catholic schools and parish religious education programs using the training resources created by the diocese and approved by the bishop. The pastors, school principals and Directors of Religious Education will ensure this is accomplished. The parish/school will notify the parents of these children prior to the annual training and provide the training materials to parents if requested. After review, parents may refuse to have their children participate in the annual training by formally opting them out. Parents must sign a refusal form to do so.
- The diocesan procedure for completion of criminal background checks and training in the safe environment program will be overseen by the diocesan SEC and provided to each parish and school for their adherence.

Policy on Reporting Incidents of Child Abuse or Neglect

Purpose

The Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend shares the conviction of Indiana legal authorities, all concerned adults, whether they are parents, and the Church that every effort should and must be made to report child abuse or neglect to appropriate authorities. Incidents of the physical, emotional or sexual abuse or neglect of children, unfortunately, occur with regularity throughout our society.

Very often the victims of this abuse are too young to relate to others the fact of occurrence or are too frightened or ashamed to reveal the identities of those responsible for the abuse or neglect. Therefore, only when concerned individuals report those facts which give them reason to believe an incident of child abuse or neglect has occurred can this distressing problem be brought forward for legal redress, as well as psychological assistance and spiritual rehabilitation. This diocesan policy on reporting child abuse or neglect is intended to promote awareness of the laws of the State of Indiana already in effect for all and thus enhance our pastoral awareness of, and response to, this grave problem.

Definitions

1. "Diocese" means the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend. As used in this policy, the diocese includes all diocesan offices, parishes, schools, agencies, programs, and departments.
2. "DCS" means the Indiana Department of Child Services, the agency to which child abuse or neglect may be reported.
3. For purposes of this policy, "local law enforcement agency" means a local town or city police department, county sheriff's department or Indiana State Police post. A list of county sheriff's department offices located within the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend to which reports of child abuse or neglect may be made is provided at the end of this policy.

Local town or city police departments and Indiana State Police posts are not listed, but may be contacted to make a required report.

4. "Employee" as used in this policy means any priest, deacon, candidate for ordination of the religious life, paid personnel, lay or religious, and any person acting as a volunteer, in any capacity, for the diocese.

5. For purposes of this policy, "child abuse or neglect" refers to any physical, emotional or sexual abuse or neglect of a child less than 18 years of age. This includes children who suffer physical and/or emotional abuse by the acts or omissions of their parents, guardians, custodians or others. It also refers to children who are victims of certain sex offenses perpetrated by anyone.

6. For purposes of this policy, "reason to believe" means information which, if presented to individuals of similar background and training, would cause those individuals to believe that a child may have been abused or neglected.

7. For purposes of this policy, "direct supervisor" means:

- for parish school employees and volunteers, their school principal;
- for non-school employees and volunteers in a parish, their parish pastor, DRE, or Youth Ministry leader, as applicable;
- for all high school employees and volunteers, their school principal;
- for diocesan agency or department employees, their agency or department administrator; and
- for chancery employees and volunteers, the Chief Financial Officer for those in the finance office and the Vicar General for all others.

Policy

1. Reporting Incidents

Indiana law requires that all persons, without exception, make an immediate oral report to a local law enforcement agency or DCS if that person has "reason to believe" that a child may be a victim of child abuse or neglect (unless that person knows a report of the incident has already been made). The obligation to report exists regardless of who the accused may be. This duty applies to all diocesan personnel:

- All priests, deacons, candidates for ordination and the religious life, and other religious personnel,
- All school and parish personnel, paid and volunteer (including counselors); and
- All other employees and volunteers of the diocese or any of its affiliated organizations.

The diocese expects and requires that all its priests, deacons, candidates for ordination and the religious life, paid personnel, lay and religious, and volunteers, especially those who work in diocesan programs that are directly and immediately involved with children, recognize and report child abuse and neglect in accordance with Indiana law. The diocese expects and requires that the report be made regardless of when the suspected abuse or neglect is claimed to have occurred.

Where a person suspects that a child may be a victim of abuse or neglect, but is unsure whether he or she has sufficient “reason to believe” to make a report, that person should always err on the side of caution and report. The key is to report rather than not report.

Any persons required to make a report to the DCS or law enforcement agency in their capacity as diocesan employees or volunteers are also required to notify immediately their direct supervisor concerning their report to the DCS or law enforcement agency. The direct supervisor then also becomes personally responsible to report, or to cause a report to be made, to the DCS or law enforcement.

If the direct supervisor of the individual making the initial report is unavailable or if the individual feels the direct supervisor is not the appropriate party to contact, the employee/volunteer should immediately notify a Vicar General of the report. The phone number at the Fort Wayne Chancery is (260) 422-4611. The person making the report must document his/her actions. A form is attached to this policy for these purposes. The person making the report must use this form or a similar one.

2. Possible Indicators of Child Abuse or Neglect

Many children who are not abused or neglected may exhibit one or more of these indicators from time to time. Children who have many of these signs or symptoms, however, may have a problem that should be reported.

In viewing possible indicators of child abuse, it is always important to distinguish between physical contact and emotional attachment which is nurturing and supportive and that which exploits a child.

Emotional Abuse

Be alert for a child who:

- has a poor self-image
- has slow physical, mental or emotional growth
- is extremely passive or aggressive
- is terrified or extremely nervous if parents are contacted
- is afraid of going home
- has a speech problem
- has a habit of biting or rocking attempts suicide

Physical Abuse

Be alert for a child who:

- has unexplained injuries or burns
- does not want to tell you how an injury occurred
- explains an injury differently than do other members of family
- has serious injuries that are left untreated
- fears going home
- has bald spots (a sign of hair pulling)
- wears clothing that covers arms and legs, even in warm weather
- refuses to undress for gym class
- is overly aggressive or withdrawn

Sexual Abuse

Be alert for a child who:

- has difficulty walking or sitting
- has pain or itching around genitals
- has unusual knowledge of or interest in sex
- is extremely moody
- has poor peer relationships, especially with opposite sex
- has a sudden onset of behavior problems
- is unwilling to change or participate in physical education class
- fears going home
- new instances of bed wetting or wetting of pants

Physical Neglect

Be alert for a child who:

- wears clothes that are unusually dirty, the wrong size or torn
- has poor hygiene
- seems to be underfed and is always hungry
- has unattended medical needs
- begs or steals food
- is often absent or late
- consistently lacks supervision, especially for dangerous activities or for long periods of time
- has drug or alcohol problems

3. Report Confidentiality

The identities of persons making child abuse or neglect reports to the DCS or local law enforcement are confidential and only made available to individuals legally authorized to obtain such information. Persons making reports may be required to testify at judicial proceedings if court action becomes necessary.

4. Privileged Communications Waived

Indiana law provides that what is generally considered as "privileged communication" between a husband and a wife, a health care provider and patient, or a school guidance counselor and student, is not grounds for failing to make the required reports concerning child abuse or neglect.

Priests must also make reports unless the information formulating the reason to believe was gained within the Sacrament of Reconciliation. In such cases, priests may urge the individual providing the information to make a report or to provide the information to another person who may then make the report.

5. Reporting Immunities

Any person who has reason to believe a child is a victim of abuse or neglect and reports to DCS or law enforcement, or a person who cooperates in a judicial proceeding resulting from such a report, is presumed to have acted in good faith and, therefore, is immune from civil or criminal liability. Such liability will only become a factor if it can be shown the person acted maliciously or in bad faith.

One must remember, however, this immunity is only available to those making the statutorily required reports to a DCS or law enforcement agency and/or their direct supervisor. Legal actions for damages may still be available if a person disseminates information to other, additional parties. Therefore, a person should only make the report to the statutorily designated parties to ensure retention of the statutory immunity protection. Although a well-intentioned person may feel an obligation to inform the parents or guardian of the child, this is not to be done.

Another important point a person reporting child abuse or neglect must remember is that his or her duty is a duty to report only. Once someone reports to DCS or local law enforcement and, if applicable, a direct supervisor or Vicar General, his or her duty under the statute ends. Although the person reporting may have to cooperate in a DCS or other public authority's investigation, or may have to testify at judicial proceedings, he or she should not conduct a personal investigation. Investigating is the responsibility of DCS or law enforcement authorities. In fact, an unauthorized person who conducts his or her own investigation risks civil liability for invasion of privacy or defamation.

6. Purpose of Reporting

Protective service agencies are charged with the responsibility of protecting children and preserving family life. Their goal is to help families cope with the problems that cause child abuse, not to separate children from their parents.

7. Penalty for Not Reporting

Persons who knowingly fail to make a required report of child abuse or neglect commit a Class B misdemeanor. (I.C. 31-33-22-1) Therefore, a person should always err on the side of reporting, as opposed to not reporting. A person having "reason to believe" a child is a victim of child abuse or neglect must make the immediate oral report to shield himself or herself from civil or criminal liability, and must inform his or her direct supervisor or a Vicar General, if applicable. A form for this purpose is available on the diocesan website under Youth Protection/Report Abuse.

DIOCESAN COOPERATION WITH CIVIL AUTHORITIES

Any civil investigations of suspected incidents of child abuse or neglect will be accorded the complete and willing assistance of the appropriate Diocesan personnel. All necessary action will be taken to ensure the fair treatment of any Diocesan employee accused of child abuse or neglect. As a precautionary measure, an accused employee may be placed on administrative leave pending the investigation of the claim or the completion of any civil process. Pastoral counseling and guidance will be made available to any accused individual to support them through any investigatory period. Additional pastoral counseling will continue at the individual's request regardless of the outcome of the civil investigation. Everything will also be done to see that any child who is abused or neglected receives appropriate assistance and counseling.

The following is a list of DCS and sheriff's department offices located within the Diocese to which child abuse or neglect may be reported. Local town or city police departments or Indiana State Police Posts are not listed, but may be contacted to make a required report.

The Indiana Department of Child Services has a Child Abuse Hotline

To report child abuse or neglect to DCS, call 1 (800) 800-5556.

The hotline serves as the central reporting center for all allegations of child abuse or neglect in the State of Indiana. It is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.
